- 2 tbsp Kitchen Bouquet

SEASONINGS

- Tony Chachere's Creole Seasoning
(used throughout)
- Garlic powder
- Red/cayenne pepper

INSTRUCTIONS

STEP 1: PREP & PRE-SEASON VEGGIES

Finely chop the large onions and place them in a bowl; dust the top generously with Creole seasoning. In a separate bowl, chop the green onions and season the tops. In a third separate bowl, chop the parsley and garlic together, seasoning the tops as well.

STEP 2: PREPARE THE PROTEINS

Cube the chicken breasts and clean the wings. Season both sides of all chicken heavily with garlic powder, red pepper, and Creole seasoning. Slice your smoked sausage into 1/2-inch rounds. If using shrimp, toss them with 1 tsp of seasoning and keep chilled.

STEP 3: DEEP BROWN THE MEATS

Heat cooking oil in a large skillet or heavy pot over medium-high heat. Fry the chicken pieces for exactly 6 minutes total (3 minutes per side) so they hold their shape later. Remove and drain on paper towels. Pour out the cooking oil, return the pot to heat, and thoroughly brown the sliced sausage.

STEP 4: BUILD THE FLAVOR BASE

Remove nearly all of the rendered sausage oil from the pot, reserving it in a separate container. Do not clean the pot! That stuck-on black residue is pure flavor. Sauté your seasoned large onions in the residual oil until completely tender. Stir in the green onions, parsley, and garlic, cooking until wilted. Add a splash of the saved sausage oil if things look too dry. Stir in the rosemary and Italian seasoning, mixing well.

- Black pepper
- 1 tsp dried rosemary
- 2 tsp Italian seasoning
- 1 tsp seasoning (for shrimp)

STEP 5: PREPARE THE SEASONED BROTH

Set your large 15-inch roaster on the stovetop stretched over two burners set to medium heat. Pour in the 9½ cups of chicken broth, the 3 tsp of bouillon base (or crushed cubes), and the 2 tbsp of Kitchen Bouquet browning sauce to establish a signature deep, dark brown color. Transfer your sautéed vegetable mixture directly into this broth and stir.

STEP 6: BOIL & SEASON TO TASTE

Bring the liquid in the roaster to a rapid boil. While it warms up, add 4 tsp of Creole seasoning to the pot. Taste the rolling liquid—continue adjusting with more Creole seasoning, black pepper, and red pepper until the broth tastes slightly too salty (usually 4–6 total tsp of Creole seasoning). This ensures the rice is seasoned perfectly inside out.

STEP 7: ASSEMBLE & BAKE

Carefully add the browned chicken, smoked sausage, and shrimp (if using) into the boiling roaster piece by piece, leaving behind any pooled surface oils. Once the liquid returns to a boil for a few minutes, drop the heat to low. Pour in the uncooked long-grain rice evenly across the roaster. Using a spoon, gently push the rice down into the broth and away from the meat pieces. Do not stir.

STEP 8: COVER & BAKE

Cover the roaster securely and transfer it to an oven preheated to 350°F. Bake for 1 hour. Check the center of the pot; if the rice still appears wet, leave it uncovered or lightly tented for an additional 15 minutes until the liquid is fully absorbed and the grains are tender.

REQUIRED EQUIPMENT

The Double-Pot Method: This authentic crowd-sized recipe requires two main vessels: 1 Large Skillet or Heavy Pot (used on the stove to brown meats and sauté aromatics) and 1 Large 15-inch Roaster (capable of stretching over two stovetop burners to boil the liquid before transitioning to the oven to bake).
